Learning Communities (LC)

Learning Communities give students the opportunity to live with a cohort of like-minded peers in a supportive environment focused around a particular area of interest. Students living in our LCs will have opportunities to engage with academic faculty and staff outside of the classroom in a variety of activities. Our LCs are varied, with some being academic major-focused and others centering around different topics students want to further develop themselves in. These communities provide additional support, with direct connections to a faculty coordinator who holistically engages in development as students navigate their college experience. Students who participate in an LC will also enroll in a course specific to their LC that connects their classroom and living experiences.

Each Learning Community has different events, intentionally tailored to their topic of interest, which vary from speakers in the residence halls, trips off campus, and hands-on activities. Some past experiences have included trips into Washington, D.C.; backstage tours of local theater productions; camping on Assateague Island, Virginia; and hikes in local parks. These events help students connect what they are learning in their classes to the community around them while also building strong relationships. Students have the opportunity to participate in an LC at any point in their time at Mason, with some LCs being freshmen only, some tailored to an upper-level experience, and others combining both populations. Build lifelong connections, enhance your student experience, and find your home with one of our Learning Communities!

For a detailed description of each of the different LCs and the application process, visit llc.gmu.edu or email LLC@gmu.edu.

Counseling and Psychological Services
George Mason University's Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) provides free and confidential services to Mason students and the broader Mason community. The range of services offered includes
- Individual and group counseling
- Psychiatric services

- Daily workshops
- Referral services
- Consultation with faculty, staff, parents, and friends

All students enrolled in classes at Mason are eligible for an initial consultation with our office. During the consultation, we will discuss your concerns and review options for support. Students are referred to services based on their concerns to help promote psychological health and academic success.

Students may use CAPS services to address a variety of concerns, including managing anxiety, depression, grief, and/or anger; personal, family, and relationship concerns; traumatic experiences; difficulty with alcohol, other substances, or food; sexual identity; race/ethnicity, culture, and diversity; and attaining educational and academic goals.

CAPS services are provided by a staff of professional clinical psychologists, counselors, and psychiatric providers. For students who need more intensive services, we offer referrals to community-based providers and facilitate successful connections with these resources.

In addition to working directly with students, CAPS provides consultation to faculty, staff, parents, and friends who may be concerned about another student. By speaking with an on-call clinician, individuals can gain information and support about how they might approach and address issues with the student of concern.

Honor Code
What is the Mason Honor Code?
To promote a stronger sense of mutual responsibility, respect, trust, and fairness among all members of the George Mason University community, and with the desire for greater academic and personal achievement, we, the student members of the university community, have set forth this honor code: Student members of the George Mason University community pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.

Honoring this pledge means placing value on the degree you receive when you graduate from the university.

How does Mason define cheating, plagiarism, stealing, and lying?

- Cheating includes, but is not limited to, using or possessing any unauthorized material or assistance in any academic work.
- Plagiarism is defined as using another individual’s ideas or words without attribution or credit. It also includes using prior work that has been submitted for credit or published in another venue as a new submission without citation. Using the ideas of others without proper attribution or citation is unethical and a violation of the Honor Code.
- Stealing, from an academic perspective, means obtaining and/or providing unauthorized access to educational materials. These materials might be tests or quizzes from faculty members, or they may be the work product of another student.
- Lying in an academic context refers to providing information known to be false as a way to bypass classroom expectations or gain an unfair advantage in completing academic work.

How can you, as a Mason student, maintain academic integrity?

- Read the course syllabus.
- Ask your professor questions.
- Double-check and protect your work.
- Plan your time well.
- When in doubt, cite your source using the appropriate style guide for your course/discipline.
- Don’t use online homework study sites to complete work.

Help maintain the value of the Mason degree!

Welcome to the Mason Nation!

At Mason, we believe that we thrive together, as shared success is one of our core values. Our goal is to become a model well-being university where students, faculty, and staff build lives of vitality, purpose, resilience, and engagement.

We enhance our well-being through making connections within the Mason community. We prioritize practices that help us to take care of ourselves. We support the well-being of others by sharing the strategies that work for us and by offering our help and support. We share the practices we use to take care of ourselves and others.

We teach well-being practices through an academic minor in well-being, workshops, our Thriving Together well-being weekly newsletter, the CliftonStrengths talent assessment, the Resilience Badge Program, and our Well-being Learning Community.

Let’s focus on building our strengths!

As part of Mason’s strategic goal to become a model Well-Being University, more than 27,000 students, faculty, and staff have taken the 20-minute, CliftonStrengths talent assessment. Your results will help you identify, understand, magnify, and develop your skills and talents based on a simple equation:

Talent + Investment = Strength

For more information, or if you need accommodations to take the assessment, visit strengths.gmu.edu.

CliftonStrengths®
At George Mason University we include and embrace a multitude of people and ideas in everything we do and protect the freedom of all members of our community to seek truth and express their views. Freedom of expression in an intellectually and culturally diverse environment provides all members of our community the opportunity to learn, grow, and contribute to our shared mission to create a more just, free, and prosperous world. George Mason University is committed to protecting free speech and free expression on its campus and in its education programs.

Being exposed to competing perspectives is essential for questioning our assumptions, testing our beliefs, and refining our knowledge. Our goal as a community must be to create an environment where we can engage in difficult and challenging conversations with civility and mutual respect, where confronting opposing ideas and perspectives becomes an opportunity to learn from and with each other.

Our commitment to freedom of expression is not incompatible with our commitment to diversity and to nurturing a positive and collaborative environment where everyone can thrive. On the contrary, it is by achieving the latter that freedom of expression becomes a powerful tool for personal learning and growth. But our efforts to build a civil and respectful environment cannot be used as reasons to limit the rights of others to express views that we may consider misguided or even offensive. As articulated by a 2014 report from the University of Chicago, we must hold a fundamental commitment to “the principle that debate or deliberation may not be suppressed because the ideas put forth are thought by some or even by most members of the university community to be offensive, unwise, immoral, or wrongheaded.”

Mason facilities are intended primarily for the use of its students, faculty, and employees in their efforts to advance the educational mission of the university. No use shall be permitted that is unlawful, threatens the safety of the Mason community, or is inconsistent with the mission of the university. In maintaining a safe campus, in which its students, faculty, and employees can advance the educational mission of Mason without disruption, the university may establish constitutionally permissible time, place, and manner restrictions on the use of its facilities and property (e.g., registration requirements, times when use is permitted, limitations on amplified sound). These can be found in University Policies 1103, 1109, 1140, and other applicable policies and procedures. These policies and procedures ensure that Mason can focus on its educational mission, provide a safe environment for learning, and preserve the aesthetics of its campus.

The campus community is encouraged to participate in all university-sponsored programs and activities. Members of the Mason community maintain the right to criticize and contest speech they disagree with, whether by members of the Mason community or outside speakers who are invited to the campus. But freedom of expression does not permit disrupting or preventing another person’s ability to speak or hindering the ability of others to see or hear that speech. The First Amendment protects the right to peacefully protest, demonstrate, and speak in opposition to others’ speech, as long as it does not impede the constitutionally protected speech of others.

All members of the George Mason University community enjoy the right to freedom of speech and expression. Individuals are encouraged to speak, write, listen, challenge, and demonstrate as a natural platform for intellectual engagement. This is the true spirit of freedom and learning.

If you would like additional information about Mason policies related to speech and expression, you can visit www2.gmu.edu/1stAmendment. If you believe your freedom of speech or expression has been disrupted, you may report an incident of disruption of constitutionally protected speech by selecting the “Submit a Report” button on the left side of that webpage. You can also visit campusclimate.gmu.edu for more information about speech, expression, and other campus climate topics at Mason.

STUDENT ACCOUNTS

Communication Policy
The Student Accounts Office communicates with students via their Mason email address. Students are responsible for reading the content of university communication sent via email and are required to activate their Mason email account and check it regularly.

Electronic Billing
We bill tuition and fees electronically through the Bill and Payment System. Paper invoices are not mailed. Semester ebills are sent electronically to students and authorized users. The ebill is a snapshot of the account at the time of invoicing; real-time account charges and balances may be viewed at any time via the My Account tab in the Bill and Payment System.

Authorized Users
For ease in submitting payments and staying up to date on financial information, students should set up their parents as authorized users in the Bill and Payment System. Authorized users will receive ebill notices and be able to access student accounts but are not able to view academic information.

Semester Payment Plans
Payment plans are available online through the Bill and Payment System for students who need to budget their accounts. Please note there is no convenience fee for electronic check payments. All payment plans require a $25 contract fee, which is nonrefundable.

Please visit our website at studentaccounts.gmu.edu for more information and payment plan set-up guides.

Late Payment Fee
Failure to receive a reminder ebill confirming your charges does not waive the requirement for on-time payment. Check the Bill and Payment System for updated balances. Registrations prior to the start of the semester must be paid no later than the first day of the semester to avoid a 10 percent late payment fee of up to $125. Payment for registrations on the first day of the semester or later is due five business days after registration. Payments will be accepted up to 10:30 p.m. through the Bill and Payment System. Late payment fees will not be removed from accounts.

Registration Policies and Class Drop Deadlines
Classes will not be canceled for nonpayment or nonattendance. Students are responsible for confirming their withdrawal from any classes by the published deadlines. Approved late schedule adjustments after the deadline to add classes will incur additional fees of up to $125. Please visit studentaccounts.gmu.edu for penalty deadlines.

Financial Good Standing
Financial good standing and a university record clear of holds are required for students to receive services. Services, including, but not limited to, transcript issuance, diploma release, class registration (add, drop, withdrawal, and so forth), and/or housing and meal plans will not be provided to students with a financial balance due or a hold of any kind on their record.

Third-Party Billing
Third-party billing requirements and procedures are available at studentaccounts.gmu.edu/third-party-billing-office.

MASON STUDENT SERVICES CENTER

The Mason Student Services Center is the first stop and the central resource for students seeking information and solutions related to registration, enrollment, financial aid, billing, academic records, and other student support services. The center assists new and continuing students at all points in their academic career, in one convenient location, thus eliminating the need to visit multiple offices on campus.

LOCATION
The Mason Student Services Center is located on the lower level of SUB I on the Fairfax Campus. Upon arrival, students should proceed to an available kiosk station and check in online. After checking in, students will be greeted by a center representative who can answer both general and complex questions, provide assistance with navigating university resources, and provide referrals to specialists when necessary.

Walk-in services are available Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

PRINT AND MAIL SERVICES

Student Printing
George Mason University has partnered with Canon to provide print services for all students. Mason uses a “Follow Me Print” system in which students can send their print jobs from any computer connected to the university’s computer network. This network includes campus-owned devices and personal computers or mobile devices. Students can retrieve their print jobs from any of the almost 300 multifunction devices located across all Mason campuses.

Students are not required to purchase a personal printer, as Canon devices are available in all on-campus housing neighborhoods. Each neighborhood will have at least one device available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Devices are also available in all areas frequented by students.

The Canon devices can also be used for copying and scanning.

Mason Money is used to pay for printing at a cost of $0.10 for each black-and-white print/copy and $0.25 for each color print/copy. There is no charge for scanning. Students will not be charged until they release their job(s) at a device.

Canon operates a full-service print shop on campus to fulfill all printing needs. Products include, but are not limited to, posters, banners, flyers, business cards, bound items, and yard signs. More information about the Canon Print Hub can be found at gmuprinthub.com.

Mail Procedures
All students living on campus are assigned a mailbox number by mail services free of charge. This number will be each student’s unique identifier for sending and receiving paper mail and packages.

Student mailing addresses are written as follows:
First Name Last Name
4450 Rivanna River Way #XXXX (Student’s unique mailbox number)
Fairfax, VA 22030

All mail and packages MUST contain the mailbox number.

All student mail is stored at The Hub on the lower level in the Mail Services area.

Paper mail (letters, magazines, etc.) is stored in file folders behind the Mail Services counter. Students will walk up to the counter and request their paper mail from a Mail Services representative.

Packages are stored in computerized smart lockers. Students will receive an email/text message alerting them to the presence of a package. This message will contain the locker number and four-digit code to retrieve the package. If the item is oversized, oddly sized, or perishable, the message will instruct them to pick up the package at the counter.

There is no notification for paper mail.

Mail Services offers outbound parcel service through the U.S. Postal Service and UPS. Payment can be made by credit/debit card or Mason Money.

For more information, please visit printandmail.gmu.edu.

The College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) is home to the Departments of Global and Community Health, Health Administration and Policy, Nutrition, Rehabilitation Science, and Social Work, and the School of Nursing. We are located in Peterson Family Health Sciences Hall, which includes a community clinic, state-of-the-art nursing simulation and health informatics labs, and a high-tech nutrition kitchen where students can practice the skills they are learning within the classroom.

Our students prepare to be leaders in health care, public health, and social services, making them ready to solve the challenges of a rapidly changing health care environment. We have more than 1,900 undergraduate students enrolled in our five bachelor’s degree programs and more than 1,100 graduate students enrolled in more than 20 graduate degree programs and certificates.

The college emphasizes the importance of experiential learning so that students’ education occurs both within and beyond the walls of the college. Student opportunities include collaborative research projects with faculty, professional development, networking with alumni, community service activities, health-related study-abroad courses, and the chance to gain leadership experience through student organizations and honor societies. For example, our Mason and Partners Clinics give our students valuable health care experience in an innovative multidisciplinary environment. At the same time, they provide more than $90,000 a month in free health care to the most vulnerable members of our community.

CHHS values diversity in its student body and faculty and provides an interdisciplinary education that enables students to develop analytical and creative thinking skills and to make well-founded ethical decisions. A team of professional and faculty advisors support and guide CHHS students as they work toward their educational and professional goals.

CHHS has strong relationships with many health care and human service agencies in the area. Students in CHHS have the opportunity to complete a practicum course, and we have more than 200 active practicum sites for them to work with and gain hands-on experience that can lead to a job after graduation.

What is the Mason Core?
George Mason University’s Mason Core is designed to complement work in a student’s chosen area of study. These classes serve as a means of discovery for students, providing a foundation for learning, connecting to potential new areas of interest, and building tools for success in whatever field a student pursues. Learning outcomes are guided by the qualities all students should develop as they move toward graduating with a Mason degree.

HOW IS THE MASON CORE CONNECTED TO YOUR MAJOR?
The courses taken in the Core will help develop the skills needed to achieve the learning required in all academic majors. Research has shown that most employers, regardless of the field, have high expectations that their college-educated employees will come to the workplace well prepared to write and speak clearly, think critically, and solve problems creatively. If a student has not yet chosen a major, Core courses can help in choosing a major and beginning to develop the skills and habits of thinking that will stay with the student throughout his or her life.

For more information about all Mason Core options, courses, and credits, visit the University Catalog at catalog.gmu.edu or the Office of the Provost’s website at masoncore.gmu.edu.

How is the Mason Core completed?
The Mason Core begins in a student’s first year at Mason, starting with the Foundation-level courses. Students typically proceed to the Integration-level courses in their junior year. Academic advisors assist students in selecting the Core courses needed, making working with an advisor incredibly significant in creating the best possible Core experience. It is critical that students continue to meet with their academic advisor as they continue toward graduation.

Foundation Courses

WRITTEN COMMUNICATION (LOWER)
(ENGH 101, 3 CREDITS)
Students develop the ability to use written communication as a means of discovering and expressing ideas and meanings; in short, employing writing as a way of thinking. Students begin this process in the fundamental English 101 (100 for ESL students) and build higher-level skills in English 302. Writing is emphasized in many courses throughout a student’s academic career, and at least one course in every student’s major is designated as “writing intensive.”

ORAL COMMUNICATION (3 CREDITS)
Students learn to demonstrate understanding of and proficiency in constructing and delivering multiple message types; understand and practice effective elements of ethical verbal and nonverbal communication; develop analytical skills and critical listening skills; and understand the influence of culture in communication and know how to cope with cultural differences when presenting information to an audience. Students develop the ability to use oral communication as a way of thinking and learning, as well as sharing ideas.
Required: One approved course; students are expected to continue developing oral communication skills in additional core courses as appropriate.

QUANTITATIVE REASONING (3 CREDITS)
Students interpret quantitative information (i.e., formulas, graphs, tables, models, and schematics) and draw inferences from them. Given a quantitative problem, students formulate the problem quantitatively and use appropriate arithmetical, algebraic, and/or statistical methods to solve the problem; evaluate logical arguments using quantitative reasoning; and communicate and present quantitative results effectively.
Required: One approved course.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND COMPUTING (3 CREDITS)
The purpose of the information technology requirement is to ensure that students achieve an essential understanding of information technology infrastructure encompassing systems and devices, learn to make the most of the web and other network resources, protect their digital data and devices, take advantage of the latest technologies, and become more sophisticated technology users and consumers.

Exploration Courses

ARTS (3 CREDITS)
Students develop an understanding of the relationship between artistic process and a work’s underlying concept, and where appropriate, contexts associated with the work; identify and analyze the formal elements of a particular art form using appropriate vocabulary and critique appropriate to that form; analyze cultural productions using the standards appropriate to the form as well as the works’ cultural significance and context; analyze and interpret the content of the material or performance through its social, historical, and personal contexts; and engage in generative artistic processes, including conception, creation, and ongoing critical analysis.
GLOBAL UNDERSTANDING (3 CREDITS)
The goal of the global understanding category is to help students see the world from multiple perspectives, reflect upon their positions in a global society, and be prepared for future engagement as global citizens. While it may include a historical perspective, global understanding courses focus primarily on a contemporary understanding of one’s place in a global society. A full-semester study-abroad experience can be used to fulfill this requirement.

LITERATURE (3 CREDITS)
Courses in the literature category focus on enabling students to read for comprehension, detail, and nuance; identify specific literary qualities of language as employed in texts they read; analyze the ways specific literary devices contribute to the meaning of a text; identify and evaluate the contribution of the social, political, historical, and cultural contexts in which a literary text is produced; and evaluate a critical argument in others’ and one’s own context.

NATURAL SCIENCE (7 CREDITS)
Natural science courses engage students in scientific exploration, foster their curiosity, enhance their enthusiasm for science, and enable them to apply scientific knowledge and reasoning to personal, professional, and public decision-making. Required: Two approved science courses; at least one course will include a laboratory experience.

SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE (3 CREDITS)
Students develop the ability to explain how individuals, groups, or institutions are influenced by contextual factors; demonstrate awareness of changes in social and cultural constructs; and use appropriate methods and resources to apply social and behavioral science concepts, terminology, principles, and theories in analysis of significant human issues, past or present.

WESTERN CIVILIZATION/WORLD HISTORY (3 CREDITS)
Western civilization/world history course work provides students with an understanding of the major chronology of Western civilization or world history. Students learn how to narrate and explain long-term changes in Western civilization and world history; identify, evaluate, and appropriately cite sources, both online and in print; develop historical literacies through the analysis and use of primary sources; and understand effective communication of patterns, processes, and themes in the history of Western civilization and the world.
Integration Courses

WRITTEN COMMUNICATION (UPPER) (ENGH 302, 3 CREDITS)

Students develop the ability to use written communication as a means of discovering and expressing ideas and meanings; in short, employing writing as a way of thinking. Students begin this process in the fundamental English 101 (100 for ESL students) and build higher-level skills in English 302. Writing is emphasized in many courses throughout a student’s academic career, and at least one course in every student’s major is designated as “writing intensive.”

WRITING-INTENSIVE COURSE REQUIREMENT (3 CREDITS)

As part of the university’s commitment to student writers in all undergraduate programs, at least one upper-division course in each major has been designated as fulfilling the writing intensive (WI) requirement. While other courses in the major may require written projects, teachers of the designated WI courses will devote class time to instruction on how to complete assignments successfully, assign and grade a minimum of 3,500 words, provide constructive feedback on drafts, and allow revision of at least one graded assignment. See the description of each major for the specific course or courses that fulfill the WI requirement.

SYNTHESIS OR CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE (3 CREDITS)

Students meet the final Mason Core requirement by completing either a disciplinary Capstone Experience or a Mason Core Synthesis course. Students should confer with their advisors to determine whether they will meet this requirement via a capstone experience or a synthesis course. The purpose of the synthesis course is to provide students with the opportunity to synthesize the knowledge, skills, and values gained from the Mason Core curriculum. Such courses strive to expand students’ ability to master new content, think critically, and develop lifelong learning skills across the disciplines. Synthesis courses function as a careful alignment of disciplinary goals with a range of general education learning outcomes. The purpose of the Capstone Experience is to consolidate the knowledge and understanding gained in a student’s major degree and Mason Core courses.

Upsilon Phi Delta: National Honor Society for Health Administration

Why Join an Academic Honor Society?
All academic honor societies bestow honor, recognition, and lifetime distinction.
Consider these benefits college honor societies offer:
- Having an honor society listed on your resume provides a tangible sign of your academic success.
- Honor societies, especially those serving a single academic discipline, help to keep members current in their fields through publications and by means of local, state, regional, and national meetings.
- Honor societies provide members with more insight into disciplines than can be gained through classroom experience alone.
- Federal Employment—in a letter dated April 13, 1973, the U.S. Civil Service Commission stated, “Membership in a national honor society meets one of the requirements for entrance at the GS-7 level in numerous professional and technical occupations in the Federal service.” However, applicants must meet all of the requirements as described in the particular Federal Job Announcement covering the positions for which they apply.”

MASON CORE is the university’s general education requirement. It is equivalent to roughly one-third of your credits and is distributed among fundamental courses in writing, math, communication, and information technology, as well as those in the humanities, physical and biological sciences, social sciences, the arts, and more. The topic areas remain constant across majors, but students have the flexibility to select courses of interest from an approved list to complete each requirement. Additionally, these requirements may be met via transfer, AP, or IB credits. Many majors will have lower-level requirements specific to the degree that may also meet a Mason Core area requirement. For more specific information about Mason Core, please search “Mason Core” and/or review the Mason Core pages in your Orientation handbook.

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS: All majors have a set of required courses that are specific to that program. These courses range from lower-level courses appropriate for freshmen and sophomores to upper-level courses that are geared toward juniors and seniors. Some courses have prerequisites, which are a specific course or courses that must be taken first. Additionally, some major requirements may also meet a Mason Core requirement.

COLLEGE OR SCHOOL REQUIREMENT: Certain colleges have a set of requirements that are unique to their majors. For instance, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences requires all their students completing a bachelor of arts degree to meet intermediate proficiency in a foreign language. These students are also asked to complete an additional social science course beyond the one needed to fulfill the Mason Core, a philosophy or religious studies course, and a non-Western culture course. Please check with your advisor to make sure that you meet the requirements specific to your college.

ELECTIVES: These are credits that don’t meet a specific requirement, such as a Mason Core, major, or college requirement. They are credits that go toward those necessary to complete the minimum number of credits needed to graduate, typically 120, and may be lower- or upper-level credits. This could be individual courses or those courses going toward a minor. It is all dependent upon your degree. Check with your advisor.

STEP 3: Review your academic transcript and place an “X” in the satisfied column for any requirement(s) that you have met via AP, IB, or transfer credit. Once those requirements have been identified, review and select courses for your remaining Mason Core. Please identify more than one course for each area in the event you need an option beyond your first choice.

STEP 4: Review course descriptions and identify preferred courses in the spaces below. For minimum full-time status (12 credits) you will need approximately four classes. Your schedule should be a mix of Mason Core, major requirements and/or college requirement, and exploration courses or electives.

Graduation Information

DEGREE EVALUATION
Degree Works is the degree evaluation system used by students to track their progress toward degree completion. Detailed information regarding the steps to access and understand your degree evaluation can be found at registrar.gmu.edu/students/degree-evaluation/degree-works.

After logging into Degree Works, you must select “Process New” to view your most up-to-date information. Students should contact their academic advisor if they have a question about how courses are applying in the degree evaluation.

GRADUATION
Graduation is not an automatic process. Run your Degree Evaluation on Patriot Web. Be sure that all of your degree requirements will be met by the conferral date. Speak with your advisor regarding any questions. Apply to graduate on Patriot Web by the application deadline, which can be found at registrar.gmu.edu/students/graduation/timelines.

Check your Masonlive account for an email from the Office of Institutional Assessment to complete the Student Exit Survey. The final graduation review is conducted by the Registrar’s Office. Transcripts showing conferred degrees will be available after the conferral date as degrees are evaluated and posted. Diplomas will be mailed six to eight weeks after each conferral date.

Placement Testing

Foreign Language
If you are pursuing a bachelor of arts degree in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences or the College of Science, you must prove intermediate proficiency in a foreign language. Some programs within the College of Visual and Performing Arts also have a language requirement. This requirement may be fulfilled by

- completing an intermediate 202 language course at Mason or the equivalent at another college or university,
- earning a qualifying score on one of the tests listed at admissions.gmu.edu/exams, or
- taking the foreign language placement test offered by the Department of Modern and Classical Languages.

For more information on testing, visit mcl.gmu.edu/placement-testing or call 703-993-1220.

The Department of Modern and Classical Languages offers language placement tests in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Korean, Latin, Russian, and Spanish during Orientation. Students interested in Italian and Japanese testing need to contact the MCL Department directly to make testing reservations. It is recommended that students with two or more years of experience with a foreign language take the corresponding placement test. Students with less than two years or no experience do not need to take the placement test and should instead enroll in a 110 or 115 language course. Students should take less than one hour to complete testing. All students should arrive with their photo identification and Mason G number.

English
The English 101 Exam is a three-hour optional skills assessment essay exam. Any admitted student who has not transferred equivalent credit from another university or has not taken ENGH 101 is eligible to take the exam. If you receive a pass, you will not be awarded credits but you will meet your ENGH 101 requirement. If you receive a no-pass, you will not be able to retake the exam and will be required to complete the course. Summer exam (given between May 1 and August 22) results will not be available until the Friday before the start of the fall semester. There is no cost. Contact Stacey Remick-Simkins (sremicks@gmu.edu or 703-993-1162) for more information. For portfolio requirements and information on the process, please visit composition.gmu.edu/waivers/waiver-of-english-302.

Math
Most Mason students, regardless of major, will need to take at least one math course to graduate; however, the math course required varies from major to major. Each initial math course has a prerequisite and requires a particular score on the math placement test to enroll. Therefore, most students need to take the math placement test. If you are not taking a math course in the fall semester, you do not need to take the placement test during Orientation. The test is offered during Orientation as a courtesy, but it is given throughout the academic year, as well as during the summer. Math placement test scores are valid for one year and must be attained before registering for the desired math course. We encourage you to talk to your advisor about whether you need to take the math placement test, as well as when it would be best for you to take it.

For more information, please visit math.gmu.edu.

Reva and Sid Dewberry Family School of Music
The Reva and Sid Dewberry Family School of Music offers placement tests in theory, sight singing, ear training, and keyboard skills. These tests are optional for incoming freshman music majors but are required for incoming transfer students who plan to major in music. Prior notice to the School of Music is not necessary; you may simply show up and take the exams. These exams are only available the semester you enter Mason and cannot be scheduled for a later time. Exams are typically offered in August on the last Saturday prior to the start of fall classes. For full information on placement test scheduling, please visit the School of Music website, select “Degree Programs,” and then select “Advising.”
STUDENT INFORMATION PRIVACY (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student education records and limits school officials from discussing or disclosing information contained in the student’s educational record with someone other than the student or another school official without the student’s consent. For additional information about FERPA, including the Annual Notification of Rights under FERPA, please visit ferpa.gmu.edu.

What Families Need to Know
The best way for families to stay involved and informed about their student’s progress is to keep open lines of communication with their student. When a student attends a postsecondary institution such as Mason, educational records belong to the student and not the parent or family member. This means Mason students control access to all of their educational records and must give consent if parts of an educational record are to be disclosed to a third party, including parents or family members.

Grades
Mason does not mail grades to students or to families. Grades are available for students to view online through Patriot Web. Students can request an official transcript be sent to an address of their choice for a fee. Students may order their official transcript or print unofficial transcripts via Patriot Web.

Academic Advising
In accordance with the FERPA law, school officials can speak only to a student regarding their record. An exception can be made in the instance of a student who wants to release portions of their educational record to a third party and has submitted a Consent to Release Student Information (FERPA Form). Academic advisors have copies of this form; it also is available from the Office of the University Registrar’s website, registrar.gmu.edu. A new signed release is needed for each academic advising appointment.

Financial Aid and Student Accounts
The Offices of Student Accounts and Financial Aid will speak to students at any time regarding their account; however, if the student would like either office to speak to a parent or family member, the student is required to submit a Consent to Release Student Information (FERPA Form), located on the Office of the University Registrar’s website, registrar.gmu.edu. The signed form will remain in effect until the student submits a signed and dated statement that authorizes a change or revokes prior authorizations.

Student Conduct
Educational records affiliated with the Office of Student Conduct are covered by FERPA and require a separate Privacy Waiver to authorize the discussion of a particular case or situation to someone other than the student, such as a family member.

A Privacy Waiver can be filed only by a student once a conduct situation arises; waivers cannot be submitted preemptively. The Privacy Waiver expires at the end of the particular case or situation for which it was signed, or a date of the student’s choosing. The waiver can be found at studentconduct.gmu.edu under the “Contact Us” tab.

The Office of the University Registrar can assist with FERPA-related questions. Contact ferpa@gmu.edu with questions or concerns.
TRANSFER FAQ

My transfer credits are not posted. What do I need to do?
The Office of Admissions posts transfer work taken at the point students confirm their intent to enroll at Mason. Once you have signed up for Orientation, you should be able to view your Transfer Credit Evaluation under Student Records on Patriot Web. If credits are missing from your record, please first make sure you have submitted your final transcript. If yes, please submit a Transfer Credit Inquiry Form to the Office of Admissions: www2.gmu.edu/admissions-aid/how-apply/transfer/transfer-credit-policy.

How can I change my name in university records?
To change your name, you must bring the following information, along with photo identification, to the Office of the University Registrar: original court document or notarized copy recording the marriage or name change, or a government document showing the name the student wishes to use. Name changes may also be made via mail if the student sends a notarized copy of the required documentation to the Office of the University Registrar.

Can I get permission to take classes at another institution? What do I do after I have taken the class?
Students should speak to their academic advisors for guidance before making a request for permission to enroll in a course at another institution. Students will need to appeal to the academic dean’s office of the course in which they wish to enroll in elsewhere. The Request for Permission to Study Elsewhere form can be found at registrar.gmu.edu/forms. If the request is approved, the Office of the University Registrar must receive the form before the course begins. On course completion, a sealed transcript must be sent to the Office of the University Registrar.

How do I order a copy of my transcript?
Please visit registrar.gmu.edu/records/transcripts for steps on ordering your official transcript.

How can I change my address in university records?
Students may use Patriot Web to make any changes to their address. Address change requests, which must include the student’s name, Mason G number, phone number, new address, and signature, may also be faxed to the Office of the University Registrar at 703-993-4668.

Why has my change of grade not been processed?
The Office of the University Registrar typically processes grade changes within one to two business days of receiving the Grade Change form from the instructor, department, or dean. Please contact the course instructor if the grade change is not found on your transcript within a week of receiving notification that the form has been submitted.

How can I get a copy of a class syllabus?
To obtain course syllabi, the student will need to contact the academic department.

How can I get a copy of class descriptions from the previous year?
For recent academic years, this information can be found at catalog.gmu.edu. Students may also request this information from the Office of the University Registrar, as well as use the University Libraries.

How do I receive credit for AP, IB, CLEP, or high school dual enrollment course work?
If you are eligible for AP, CLEP, IB, or high school dual enrollment transfer credit, official transcripts must be provided to the Office of Admissions during the application process. A complete list of transfer credit by exam is located at admissions.gmu.edu/exams. It is highly recommended that all transfer credit be finalized within the first academic year of enrollment at Mason.
Transfer Credit Evaluations are available on Patriot Web after admission decision notification has been sent. Students will receive an email with instructions on how to access their evaluation.

All transfer students are responsible for providing a complete and final transcript from each previous institution to the Office of Admissions. A FINAL transcript is defined as the transcript that includes ALL course work, ALL grades, and ALL degrees awarded from your previous institution. Re-admitted students will receive a new transfer credit evaluation based upon current transfer credit policy. A previous transfer credit evaluation will not be applicable to the new catalog year. The university reserves the right to revise a transfer credit evaluation.

Things to Remember About Your Transfer Credit

- Transfer credit is granted only from regionally accredited colleges or universities for courses with an earned grade of “C” or better.
- Developmental course work, including college algebra, does not transfer.
- Credits from institutions that operate on a quarter system calendar are transferred by multiplying the quarter hours by two-thirds in order to equal semester credits.
- Not all transfer credits will apply toward every major.
- If you are eligible for AP, CLEP, IB, or high school dual enrollment transfer credit, official transcripts should be provided to the Office of Admissions during the application process. A complete list of transfer credit by exam is located at admissions.gmu.edu/exams.

Important Recommendations

- All new transfer students are responsible for meeting with their academic advisor to ensure that their final transfer credit evaluation is correct and that they understand the way their transfer credit applies toward their degree program. Students should also ensure that they know how to run and read their individual degree evaluation.
- If you are missing credit or have questions about your credit, contact the Office of Admissions using the Transfer Credit Inquiry Form: www2.gmu.edu/admissions-aid/how-apply/transfer/transfer-credit-policy.
- Please send transfer inquiry forms and questions to creditevaluations@gmu.edu.

Academic holds will be placed on all new students who have not provided the required final transcript by the end of the add/drop deadline. An academic hold will prevent registration for the following semester.
